

REAR ADMIRAL COGHLAN DEAD

Noted Naval Officer Stricken
With Apoplexy and End
Came Suddenly.

ONE OF DEWEY'S CAPTAINS

NEWS RECEIVED WITH GREAT REGRET AT WASHINGTON.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Just on the eve of his removal to his new home, where he had hoped to spend his declining years in quiet, after a lifetime of arduous service in the navy, Rear Admiral Joseph B. Coghlan (retired), died suddenly here today, aged 64 years.

His death was entirely unexpected. Although his health had not been of the best for many months, his condition was not regarded at any time as dangerous. Early today, however, there came a sudden change for the worse and, although physicians were promptly summoned, he sank rapidly until death came.

Apoplexy was the cause of Rear Admiral Coghlan's death. Only a short time before his death he complained of severe pains in the region of the heart, and when a physician reached the house he had collapsed.

Wife at Bedside.

Mrs. Coghlan was at his bedside when death occurred, but the admiral's son is in California.

While Rear Admiral Coghlan was awaiting the completion of his new home, he, with Mrs. Coghlan, had been living at the home of Charles Chamberlain at Sutton Manor. It was there the admiral was stricken and died.

Rear Admiral Coghlan was born at Frankfort, Ky., and his service in the navy dated from 1862, when he graduated from the United States naval academy at the age of 17. For that time, until his retirement in December, 1896, he was almost constantly in the service. Following his participation in the battle of Manila bay as commander of the cruiser Raleigh, he was advanced for eminent and conspicuous conduct in that fight. He had in turn been commandant of the Mare Island navy yard, League Island navy yard, Puget Sound naval station, naval war college and the New York navy yard.

OFFICER WAS POPULAR.

General Regret Over Admiral's Death
Expressed in Washington.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Sincere regret was expressed on all sides today when the news of the death of Rear Admiral Joseph B. Coghlan became known. Fearless, kindly and a good story teller, he had hosts of warm friends, both among officers and those outside the service.

Admiral Dewey expressed himself shocked at the news. Coghlan was with Dewey at the battle of Manila bay and he was promoted later for his work in that battle. He enjoyed the admiral's confidence to a marked degree and was dispatched by him on various important missions while the fleet was in the Philippines.

"Hoch der Kaiser" Incident.

It was Admiral Coghlan's popularity and capacity as a good story teller that involved him in the incident of which much was made at the time, when the admiral recited the poem "Hoch der Kaiser," which somewhat ruffled the German authorities. The incident occurred at a dinner which the admiral attended, and it was not intended that the fact of the recital should become public. However, it appeared in newspapers, and as it occurred after the return from Manila, where there had been some friction with the German authorities, the affair was treated with more significance than perhaps the circumstances otherwise would have warranted. The navy department called on the admiral for an explanation. The admiral replied that no disrespect was meant by him toward the German emperor, and with this the statement was allowed to drop.

Served in Two Wars.

Admiral Coghlan was a native of Kentucky, where he was born in 1844. In the course of his distinguished career he had active service in the civil war and in the Spanish war. He was second in command of the north Atlantic squadron on board the flagship Brooklyn and Olympia from June, 1902, to April, 1904, and more recently commander of the New York navy yard.

GOULD ROAD DELINQUENT

New York Trust Company Wants
Stocks and Bonds Pledged As Security Ordered Sold.

Cleveland, Dec. 5.—The assertion made by opposing attorneys in the Wheeling & Lake Erie suit in the federal court, that the Wheeling and not the Wheeling company, used the $8,500,000 worth of gold notes issued by the New York Trust company three years ago, is denied in the trust company's amended intervening petition, filed today.

These notes, the trust company says, were sold for $7,900,000; $3,422,364 went for the Wheeling debt; rolling stocks were purchased for $2,180,628; George J. Gould and the estate of Jay Gould each got $102,500 on loans from the trust company; the Pittsburgh Terminal & Coal company, $200; the Pacific Express company was paid $51,281; the Bowling Green trust company, $250,000; interest of $4,791 was paid on a temporary loan of $500,000; $151,250, and $674,827 was devoted to buying current vouchers. The New York Trust company wants $12,000,000 of bonds and $1,000,000 of rolling stock pledged as security for these gold notes ordered sold by the court unless the Wheeling pays up.

The time for answering the intervening petition expires Jan. 1 and Judge Taylor will hear the whole matter some time next month.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.
Ludington, Mich., Dec. 5.—Ernest L. Brown, an engineer of Grand Rapids, who came here last January and shot his wife and Robert Johnson, a farmer, in whose home she was living, Mrs. Brown dying from her wounds three days later, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury today.

Brown was today sentenced by Judge Sessions to seven and one-half to fifteen years' imprisonment with a recommendation that it be ten years.

INDIAN CHIEF DEAD.
Stidham, Okla., Dec. 5.—Rolly McIntosh, 78 years old, ex-chief of the Creek Indians, is dead at his home near here. McIntosh has been representative of the tribe in Washington for the last ten years.

IDAHO MAN INVENTS SPRING WHEEL DESIGNED TO DISPLACE RUBBER TIRES

Automobilists are interested in an invention which will soon be put on the market in this city, an invention which is expected to attract widespread attention all over the country, and which, it is claimed, will revolutionize the trade of building the machines.

It is the "Miskin spring wheel," the creation of the inventive genius of Arthur R. Miskin of Idaho Falls. The wheel was perfected after one year's study and labor, and is said to be the most satisfactory of the many inventions perfected with the idea of obviating the jar of running automobiles. The wheel has been given severe tests in this city on several automobiles of different makes, and in the presence of several automobile dealers and mechanics, and withstood every trial.

It is built of steel and removes all recoil rebound or jar in the running of machines, no matter what the nature of the roadbed is or the obstructions that are run over. Pieces of two-inch iron pipe, bricks and other obstacles were placed in the path of automobiles which were equipped with the Miskin wheel, and no jar was perceptible as the machine passed over them. The mechanism of the wheel is so constructed that it takes up every bit of the jar. The wheel is constructed of the best spring steel and is absolutely staple, though it gives at every point and the surface conforms instantaneously to the nature of the ground over which it is running.

One of the features of the wheel is that it takes hold of the surface, the road and never leaves it, so matter what the jar is. Quick turns and other severe tests which would exhaust rubber tires were tried and the wheel made good, in the opinion of expert automobilists who conducted the tests.

Not alone is the invention expected to revolutionize automobile building, according to those who witnessed the tests, but it will mark an important era in the construction of street cars, wheels, carriage wheels, etc. It is expected to do away with the expensive rubber tire which is now the great drawback to automobiles, and instead will give a tire that will be proof against punctures.

The Miskin Spring Wheel company has been incorporated under the laws of Utah and patents on the invention have been secured in every foreign country of any size in the world. The capitalization of the company is $500,000. The officers are as follows:

Arthur R. Miskin, president; H. C. Bucklin, vice president; John E. Groberg, secretary; C. L. Warner, treasurer, and Joseph A. Silver, consulting engineer. The directors are James H. Gardner of Lehi, James Buckworth of Blackfoot, E. M. Blaylock of Idaho Falls, R. H. Fife of Idaho Falls, Fred B. Miskin of Rigby and L. F. Hatch of Elva.

FULL REPORT IS NOT REQUIRED

Receivers of the Westinghouse
Electric and Investment
Companies Discharged.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 5.—The receivers of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company and the Securities Investment company were discharged in the United States circuit court today by Judge James S. Young. No account of the receivers are required to be filed by the order of the court.

The petitions for the discharge of the receivers were presented to the court by Attorney George Gordon. The companies were represented by Attorney Gordon as being in sound financial condition, the court being told that the debts of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company had been arranged for with the exception of those of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company now on hand is about $17,000,000, with unassessing creditors representing only about $1,500.

Request of the Company.

Attorney Gordon asked that no account be filed by the receivers, stating that they had reported the condition of the plant from time to time to the company, and the making of account would interfere greatly with the company at this time. An inventory, he stated, would necessitate the closing down of the works for several days. The assent of the creditors and directors of the company to this provision was made a part of the record, but Judge Young dissented to a number of the arguments of the counsel relating to it. He intimated that each stockholder would have a right to question the actions of the receivers.

After addresses by Attorneys Larkin and Gale of New York, who asked that the petition be granted, Judge Young discharged the receivers and ordered that no accounts of the receivers were required.

Bad Breath and Sour Stomach

Stopped at Once With Pure Willow
Charcoal, the Greatest Gas
Absorber Known.

There is no necessity to suffer the humiliation, chagrin and discomfort of bad breath, biliousness, sour stomach, gas, tritis, sluggish liver, etc., when a little lozenge of charcoal will cleanse the stomach and make it pure and sweet.

Do not drug yourself when a simple little natural charcoal made from fragrant willow branches, sweetened with honey, will add tone to your stomach, liver and intestines, rapidly absorb gases and stop foul odors of all kinds.

Charcoal will absorb one hundred times its own volume in gas. A box full of charcoal placed in a bed room will keep the air of such a room pure and sweet. A little charcoal lozenge dissolved on the tongue after meals will also keep the stomach fresh and clean. Charcoal is justly called the scrubbing brush of the stomach. The old monks of medicinal times cure bad cases of stomach trouble, cast out devils from the system of man by feeding such a man charcoal.

Scientific men of today believe in the great strength of charcoal for the cure of human ills. Too much of it cannot harm one. The system craves it just like an animal needs and craves salt every so often. Charcoal goes into the stomach gently and is welcome; it settles down through the action of the stomach, and filters through all the food, absorbing gas, aiding digestion and giving tone to the juices, so that when the food goes into the intestines, and there meets other digestive fluids, the charcoal holds the impurities and thus keeps them from the blood.

Sturdt's Charcoal Lozenges are made from pure willow. They are prepared, fragrant by the use of honey and sweetened so they please the taste and are easily dissolved.

They have an enormous sale, thus stamping them with the approval of the public. Every druggist sells them, 25 cents per box. Go to your druggist today and buy a box; then after your next meal take two or three of them and judge for yourself of their merit.

Several taken at bed time will prove to you in the morning that they have been at work all night for your bad breath will not be so bad after all. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

RICH HAUL MADE BY THE THIEVES

House Looted After Death of Wealthy but Eccentric Philadelphia Woman.

LIVED IN MANSION ALONE

NO ONE PRESENT WHEN THE FINAL SUMMONS CAME.

New York, Dec. 5.—A special dispatch to the Herald from Philadelphia says:

Jewelry valued at $75,000, furs, a copy of an old masterpiece valued at $15,000, Paris gowns, hats and opera cloaks are included in the inventory of valuables reported missing from the residence of the late Mrs. George Wood, who was found dead on Oct. 13 in her home at 1239 North Broad street.

Mrs. Wood lived alone and she died alone. She was eccentric. Though she had hosts of friends and acquaintances, she spent her days and nights in the big, gloomy home unattended. On Oct. 13 this house, so Mrs. Wood's friends say, was the scene of confusion. Strangers tramped through the rooms and valuables were piled up and taken away.

The mystery of the missing valuables may never be cleared, unless action is taken by the city, which falls heir to part of the estate, the Catholic church and the various charities mentioned as beneficiaries in the will.

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—The police of this city, who have been notified that

FORCES KIDNEYS TO ACT

New Drug Maizene Makes Them Filter
the Impure Blood.

Ever since the New Drug Maizene, for Kidney and Bladder Troubles, was introduced some months ago, the P. J. Hill Drug company, Wilkes-Barre Drug company, F. C. Schramm, and other first class drug stores, have been kept busy supplying the demand. Maizene acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, forcing them to filter the poisons from the impure blood, preventing Rheumatism and other diseases arising from bad blood. Maizene also acts upon the bladder, and it is claimed to prevent any calculus formations. The manufacturers of Maizene put it up in one-ounce bottles only, all ready for druggists to dispense, or you can take the original package home and mix it yourself. Each ounce makes a pint of Kidney mixture. At the very first signs of backache, which is the signal for Kidney trouble, you should get a bottle of Maizene and make some of this excellent medicine. Maizene can be had from any drug store or by sending 50c direct to the laboratories of the Cooper Pharmaceutical company, 119 East Lake street, Chicago, Ill.

jewelry, valuables furs and art treasures, variously estimated as worth from $50,000 to $75,000, had disappeared from the home of the late Mrs. George Wood since her death on Oct. 13, declared today that if the many articles alleged to be missing were taken from the house they were not carried off by persons who make stealing a business. The alleged disappearance of the valuables has created a small sensation among Mrs. Wood's friends.

The dead woman was 60 years old and the widow of George Wood, former American manager of a foreign insurance company. Her handsome home on North Broad street was well furnished and contained treasures gathered here and abroad.

Found Dead in Chair.

Mrs. Wood was found dead in a chair at her home, and the coroner's physician assigned heart disease as the cause. There was no one in the house when she died.

A will left by her appointed the Girard Trust company and two women friends as executors of the estate, and when it came to distributing to the beneficiaries many articles mentioned in the will, it was found, were missing. It is not alleged that the articles were stolen, as there is no positive evidence that the things had not been disposed of during the lifetime of the woman.

It was a peculiarity of Mrs. Wood that her things were kept in great confusion. Since her death valuable ornaments have been found hidden away in trunks, tucked behind furniture and poked in out of the way corners.

The police are firm in their belief that the alleged missing articles were not carried away by professional thieves. They further declare that Mrs. Wood's wealth was largely imaginary and that she was in debt when she died.

BURNS PROVED FATAL.

Lapeer, Mich., Dec. 5.—Rev. R. H. Sidobamel, aged 34, a missionary recently returned from Korea, died here Thursday night from burns received in a gasoline explosion. He poured gasoline, by mistake, on a fire which he was kindling.
